Dear Self-Advocates all over Europe,
tragic events have been happening these days in Ukraine.

In these dark days, I would like to ask you to think about people with intellectual disabilities and their families in Ukraine.

After the coronavirus emergency, our Ukrainian friends once again found themselves in a new crisis.

It is important to pay extra attention to the needs of people with intellectual disabilities. Just as it was at the times of lockdowns.

It is crucial that people continue to get the support they need.
They need accessible information about what is happening and how to stay safe in this tragic situation.

We must not forget the people living in institutions in Ukraine.

They should not be left alone and without support.

It is also very important that people get mental support to cope with the situation.

On behalf of the European Self-Advocacy movement, this is my message to people with intellectual disabilities in Ukraine.

We all think of you and stand beside you. We strongly hope that war is coming to an end and peace will be restored soon.

Best wishes,
László Bercse
Inclusion Europe helps families in Ukraine

For most people with intellectual disabilities and families it's not possible to leave the warzone.

For many it is not even possible to hide in shelters because they are not accessible.

There is severe lack of basic supplies including medicines, hygiene products, and other necessary items.

Inclusion Europe is helping their member in Ukraine called VGO Coalition.

Ukraine VGO Coalition have told us that the best way to help is to donate.

Inclusion Europe have agreed that they will coordinate this.
VGO Coalition is member of Inclusion Europe since 2019.

VGO Coalition brings together 118 local organisations from all over Ukraine.

VGO Coalition is a family-based organisation for people with intellectual disabilities.

VGO Coalition represents 14,000 families.
Weeks of horror. And we cannot leave

In Ukraine there are 2.7 million people with intellectual disabilities at risk because of the Russian war on Ukraine.

Three organizations held a press conference on the 10th of March to talk about what is happening in Ukraine.

The names of three of organizations:

- Inclusion Europe
- European Disability Forum
- EASPD

There were also other people from disability organizations from Ukraine.

Valery Sushkevych is president of National Assembly of Persons with Disabilities Ukraine.
Raisa Kravchenko and Yulia Klepets from Ukrainian Coalition VGO.

All families in Ukraine are trying the best to survive because of what is happening in their country.

In Ukraine all the centers are closed all the community-based service have stopped.

Mothers are very tired and have huge health problems because of what is happening in Ukraine.

Yulia Klepets said they seen 2 weeks of horror.

Yulia is from Kyiv.

She has a daughter who is autistic and has intellectual disabilities.

She also has her mother who is 82 years old and they cannot leave the flat.

Yullia and her family live on the 7th floor and there is no way to get to the bomb shelter.

Raisa Kravchenko thanked the organizations for all the help they have given.

Raisa has a son who is 37 years old and she must dedicate all her time for her son.
Raisa wants to say a big thank you to Inclusion Europe for the donations.
Introduction

My name is László Bercse.
I come from Budapest, Hungary.
I am the Vice-President of Inclusion Europe and the Chair of EPSA.
EPSA is the European Platform of Self-Advocates.

I would like to tell you what EPSA worked on in 2021.

Self-advocates from our members were invited to talk at conferences and other events.

They also organised their own conferences, in their own countries.

We also organized international events online.
Challenges due to COVID-19

EPSA Steering Group and most of our members
continued to work online because of the pandemic.

Many self-advocates struggled with online meetings
due to misunderstandings or bad internet connection.

Most of us prefer to work with other people in person.

It is also easier to make new friends
if we meet face to face.
We missed travelling to conferences and meeting new people.

The good thing is that we learned digital skills and now we are able to do that with less support.

Support is always very important for us,
even more so during these difficult times.
During lockdowns, many people did not get the support they used to.

Because of that, self-advocates felt sad, lonely, confused, and angry.

The pandemic once again showed the discrimination we face every day. It has also made clear that we need a strong self-advocacy movement.

So, we continued working and speaking up.

We stayed committed and we stayed in contact, despite every difficulty.

Hear our Voices! 2021

This year the Hear our Voices Conference was different.

Self-advocates from all over Europe got together in their own countries and organised several events.
We talked about how it was for us to go through the COVID-19 situation. We also talked about what kind of Europe we want for the future, and how we can achieve it.

We had events in 9 countries, with more than 300 participants. We had events in Portugal, Romania, Ireland, Hungary, Czechia, Austria, Croatia, Moldova, and Spain.

Then we had a closing plenary, where we all got together from all the countries.

We gathered a lot of good ideas and demands from self-advocates to share with European decision makers.

CRPD consultation on deinstitutionalisation

I spoke at a regional consultation organized by the CRPD Committee.
The consultation was about deinstitutionalisation and community living. There were many people with disabilities and organizations at the online consultation.

I represented self-advocates from Europe. I prepared my statement together with other self-advocates, some of them are residents of large institutions.

The CRPD Committee used the information we shared to prepare guidelines for countries. The guidelines will help countries to put the Convention in practice.

Inclusion International's consultation on deinstitutionalisation

European self-advocates took part in a regional consultation organized by Inclusion International.
The consultation was about deinstitutionalisation and community inclusion.

We talked about:

- What kind of support do we need to live in the community?
- How can we make sure that people with disabilities do not go back to institutions?

Inclusion International forwarded our ideas to the CRPD Committee. Inclusion International made sure that the CRPD Committee considers our ideas when monitoring how the countries implement the Convention.

Public hearing on the right to make decisions

The European Economic and Social Committee (EESC) organized a public hearing.
The public hearing was about the right to take decisions. Senada Halilčević was one of the speakers. Senada is a self-advocate from Croatia and the former Chairperson of EPSA.

She spoke about the importance of legal capacity. She also talked about how the countries should support people with disabilities in making decisions.

Spanish Platform of Self-Advocates

In Spain a National Self-Advocacy Platform was launched at a conference with more than 500 participants.

Spanish self-advocates have been working in groups for many years now.

This Platform will help them to work together more closely and in a more inclusive way.
The Platform will also help to involve more people in the movement.

I congratulate them for founding this platform and wish them good luck for their work.

European Disability Strategy

The European Commission presented the new 10-year Disability Strategy. The Strategy describes how the EU will support the rights of people with disabilities in the next 10 years.

The document includes very important goals and useful steps to achieve them.

Inclusion Europe, including self-advocates commented on the Strategy. We wanted to make sure that the Strategy really supports our rights.
The conference of Harvard Law School

I had the honour of speaking at an online conference of Harvard Law School. I talked about my experience working on a shadow report of the CRPD.

A shadow report is when we share point of view to governmental reports. Shadow reports is also called alternative reports.

Me and other self-advocates wrote an easy-to-read report about the implementation of the CRPD in Hungary in 2018.

I learnt that there are not many self-advocates across the world who take part in shadow reporting.
What do we want for 2022, and for the future?

We want respect.
We want equality.
We want accessibility.
We want full citizenship!
And we want it now!!

I wish all my colleagues around Europe a lot of strength to achieve these.

I know that in the last two years you have worked really hard to adapt to the new situation and to overcome barriers. This is true for self-advocates, family members and supporters.

I wish you a better year for 2022! Please keep up the good work and to continue standing up for each other!

Easy-to-read

Easy to read is information that is written in a simple way so that people with intellectual disabilities can understand.

It is important to use simple words and sentences. If there are words that are difficult to understand, an explanation is provided.

The text needs to be clear to see, for example, black writing on a white background is good.

It needs to be well-spaced.

Easy-to-read often uses pictures to explain what the text talks about.
Someone with an intellectual disability needs to check the information is easy to understand.

Easy-to-read documents often have this logo, so it is easier to find them.

There are rules on how easy-to-read should be done.

Educate means to teach.

It means to make sure people have access to training so they can learn new skills.

ÉFOÉSZ

ÉFOÉSZ is an association of organisations that care and support the rehabilitation of people with intellectual disability in Hungary.

EPSA

The European Platform of Self-Advocates is made up of organisations of self-advocates from different countries in Europe.

We call it EPSA for short.

It is a part of Inclusion Europe.

European Commission

The European Commission works with the European Parliament.

The European Commission suggests laws for the European Parliament and the Council of the European Union to discuss.

It also makes sure that the laws that have been decided upon are being followed by the member states.
The European Parliament is a place where important decisions of the European Union are made. For example: laws.

The Members of the European Parliament (in short, MEPs) make these decisions and speak for all the people who live in the European Union.

Every five years, the people who live in the European Union vote for their country’s MEPs.

The European Union (in short, EU) is a group of 28 countries.

We call these countries “member states”.

They have joined together to be stronger politically and economically.

The EU makes laws on many important things for the people who live in those countries.

We are based in Brussels in Belgium.
Inclusive education, training, employment

Inclusive education, training or employment means that people with intellectual disabilities can learn and work together with other people without disabilities.

Institutions

Institutions are places where people with intellectual disabilities live with other people with intellectual disabilities.

They live apart from other people.

This is what we call “segregated”.

Sometimes this happens against their will.

People who live in institutions have to follow the rules of the institution and cannot decide for themselves.
If you have an intellectual disability, that means it is more difficult for you to understand information and learn new skills than it is for other people. This makes some parts of life harder.

People with intellectual disabilities often need support in learning or at work.

Intellectual disability often starts before you are an adult. It affects you for your whole life.

There are things that can make life easier for people with intellectual disabilities. For example, information in easy-to-read language.

Some people say learning disabilities instead of intellectual disabilities.

It tries to make sure that the rights of people with disabilities are respected.
