Preparing for European elections 2019:
Training for self-advocates and family members

2 – 4 October 2018, Brussels, Belgium

This training brings together self-advocates and family members from different countries.

Participants in the training will learn about the European elections 2019.

@InclusionEurope

facebook.com/inclusioneurope

youtube.com/user/inclusioneurope

They will also learn about what Inclusion Europe plans to do before the elections to make the voices of people with intellectual disabilities heard.

Participants will share their experience in participating in politics.

They will also learn how to prepare for meetings with politicians and officials.

Participants will learn about things that can make elections more accessible for people with intellectual disabilities.

They will meet with representatives of European political parties to explain why it is important to make things accessible. They will also talk about why it is important to involve people with intellectual disabilities.

On the next pages, you can read in detail what we will do during the training.

Explanations

Accessible

Something that is easy to use for people with disabilities.

Such as:

- Ramps to get into a building.
- Information in easy-to-read.
- Information in sign language.

Easy-to-read

Easy to read is information that is written in a simple way so that people with intellectual disabilities can understand.

It is important to use simple words and sentences.

If there are words that are difficult to understand, an explanation is provided.

The text needs to be clear to see,

for example, black writing on a white background is good.

It needs to be well-spaced.

Easy-to-read often uses pictures to explain what the text talks about.

@InclusionEurope

youtube.com/user/inclusion-europe

Someone with an intellectual disability needs to check the information is easy to understand.

Easy-to-read documents often have this logo, so it is easier to find them.

There are rules on how easy-to-read should be done.

You can read the European standards of easy-to-read information here: <http://easy-to-read.eu>

Elections

Elections decide who should speak for us and make choices for us. Elections happen in different areas. For example in your town or city when you can elect a new mayor. Or in your country when you can elect a new president.

European Parliament

The European Parliament is a place where important decisions of the European Union are made.

For example: laws.

The Members of the European Parliament (in short, MEPs) make these decisions.

They speak for all the people who live in the European Union.

Every five years,

the people who live in the European Union vote for their country's MEPs.

Every MEPs is part of a party.

In the European Parliament,

the parties are called political groups.

European Union

The European Union (in short, EU)

is a group of 28 countries.

We call these countries "member states".

@InclusionEurope

facebook.com/inclusion europe

youtube.com/user/inclusion europe

They have joined together to be stronger politically and economically.

The EU makes laws on many important things for the people who live in those countries.

The EU makes laws in different areas.

Some examples are:

- Laws to protect the environment.
- Laws for farmers.
- Laws to protect consumers.
A consumer is someone who buys things.

Inclusion Europe

Inclusion Europe is an organisation for people with intellectual disabilities and their families.

We fight for their equal rights and inclusion
in Europe.

We also want to make a difference to policies
in Europe.

We started in 1988.

@InclusionEurope

facebook.com/inclusion europe

youtube.com/user/inclusion europe

We have 75 members in 39 European countries.

We are based in Brussels in Belgium.

Intellectual disability

If you have an intellectual disability, that means it is more difficult for you to understand information and learn new skills than it is for other people.

This makes some parts of life harder.

People with intellectual disabilities often need support in learning or at work.

Intellectual disability often starts before you are an adult.

It affects you for your whole life.

Self-advocacy

Self-advocacy is when people with intellectual disabilities speak up for themselves.
